Kiln Packing

Lewisham Arthouse offers a packing service for you at a charge of £17 small kiln or £20 large kiln per firing

Should you wish to learn how to pack the kiln we can provide a functional course that will show you what you need to know for packing the kiln at a one off charge of £17. This could be done when you bring your work in for your first firing.

Alternatively book yourself on a technical course for kiln packing and firing. For details of courses please visit thepottersschool.co.uk (Nina Necak) or shirleystewart.co.uk (Shirley Stewart).

Subsequent firings will then be packed by you after 2 or 3 has been completed otherwise the packing service will apply.

Booking the kiln

Please note that the Kiln is a shared resource and as such can be in high demand by our studio members. If there are no firings in the week requested, your name and contact details will be taken. We do not make bookings more than a week ahead of time.

Once a booking has been made, a time and date will be arranged with you to bring in your work. You can either pack the kiln yourself or provide one of the options above if it is your first time in using the kiln.

Firing

Please be sure to provide details of kiln temperature required and any ramping needs. Details of materials used must be evidenced especially for the higher firing range in the form of an order form. This is for your protection and undue risks / damage to the kiln.

Health & Safety

Whilst in the building access is limited to the toilet (directly above the kiln room), the kiln room and the location of the studio member dealing with your request. This will be shown to you upon your arrival, you will also be made aware of fire exits and meeting point (side door and far corner of Rokeby Road and Lewisham Way).

We ask that you sign the visitors' book when entering and exiting the building.
